

ROBERT SMITH

Sr. Patient Observer

Phone: (0123)-456-789 | Email: info@qwikresume.com | Website: Qwikresume.com

SUMMARY

To pursue a Patient Observer career that will allow to utilize skills have developed through education training and experience.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Management, Organizing.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Sr. Patient Observer

University Of Vermont Medical Center - September 2001 – 2020

Key Deliverables:

- Maintains a safe environment and constant observation of at-risk patients.
- Coordinates with Nursing staff charts on patient behavior electronically.
- Alerts staff or change in behavior anticipates patient needs.
- Monitors EEG patients Experience with geriatric and dementia patients Monitoring suicidal, manic depressive and other Mental health conditions.
- Observes infants and children in pediatric settings.
- Experiences with stroke and traumatic brain injury patients.
- Tracks hydration, nutritional needs, and ability to communicate Advocate for the patient, encouraging the family to use hospital resources such as nurses, clergy, nutritionist, case coordinators.

Patient Observer

Delta Corporation - 1998 – 2001

Key Deliverables:

- Visually observing patients Report any changes to the Nurses and Supervisors Document patient activity hourly Call the Nurses or Supervisors for any .
- Assisted with AM care for clients.
- Utilized safety and suicide precautions.
- Provided emotional support and companion care.
- Documented changes in client health status and behavior.
- Observe suicidal/homicidal, fall risk, and medical necessity patients, and record their activity in fifteen-minute increments.
- EPIC training.

EDUCATION

- Associates in Science in Nursing - 1992(Norwich University - Northfield, VT)